Enhance Your Distance Learning Program With PictureTalk Web Conferencing

PictureTalk Web Conferencing Solutions — An Essential Teaching Tool

Web conferencing is a crucial tool in every distance educator's kit. The ability to convey information across the Web in real time enables any person with a telephone and a computer that has an Internet connection to explore all the potential and enjoy all the benefits of distance learning.

PictureTalk complements this process perfectly. Distance learning professionals are using PictureTalk to enhance every aspect of the educational process — from quickly designing and adapting curriculums to providing real-time, highly personalized, one-to-one online support for their students.

PictureTalk ideal for:
- ➤ Professional Trainers
- ➤ Corporate Educators
- ➤ Universities, Colleges & Professional Schools

With PictureTalk Web conferencing solutions, you as a distance educator can:

- · Demonstrate anything on your computer, including documents, spreadsheets, text presentations, applications, and multimedia (voice and video) presentations.
- · Share applications and allow participants in your courses to control aspects of each PictureTalk Learn Web conference session.
- · Integrate polling and quizzes to stimulate active participation, assess student understanding, and deepen topic mastery.
- · Know immediately when your participants see what you're saying — our CaptureFrame technology gives you confirmation when content reaches participants, so everyone stays up to speed.

PictureTalk delivers functions and features the competition just can't approach. Enjoy PictureTalk's many outstanding Web conferencing features for distance learning professionals:

- · Scalable — PictureTalk Learn helps you accommodate one student or hundreds –it's up to you.
- · Inclusive Across Platforms — Whether your students use Windows or Apple equipment, PictureTalk effortlessly supports them all. None of your students will get left out.
